Union, Doctors Report Progress In Pre-Pay Plan

"Real progress" in forming a pre-paid medical plan for unionists was achieved Tuesday.

Borough union leaders, representing 5000 men and women, met with eye and medical doctors for two hours. Dr. John A. Anthony declared, "Our talk was informal but signaled real progress."

He noted the unionists are interested in a medical program similar to one in Chicago, Ill. That and three other plans were discussed Tuesday.

The Chicago plan gives broad insurance and medical care to 45,000 unionists and their families. But Dr. Anthony noted such a plan is needed only in part in the borough.

"INSURANCE BENEFITS are available by other means to most unionists. Cutting that from the original Chicago plan will save many dollars for Pottstonians," he explained.

Dr. Anthony said most borough physicians see a need for pre-paid medical coverage, to augment Blue Cross. We doctors are not at odds with unionists, we want to tailor a plan to suit the needs and pocketbooks of union people."

He continued, "But there is one point that I believe should be clarified. That concerns the need for a clinic. "We physicians think a clinic would be costly and is not needed, since doctor's offices are available and adequate. I believe union leaders are coming to that point of view, too," said Dr. Anthony.

Dr. Jack Wennersten noted the Chicago plan originally had a clinic staffed by 38 doctors. The setup was abandoned last year "as a matter of convenience," said Dr. Wennersten.

Carl Herbine, president of Amalgamated local 644, United Auto Workers union, was in charge of Tuesday's session attended by 11.

AREA SCHOOLS PRESSED BY RISING COSTS

2 Boards See Tighter Assessment As Answer

With the fiscal year ending tomorrow for Pennsylvania school districts, at least two area boards are digging into the finer points of financing a school program in a day of rising costs.

Both the Schwenksville Union and the Upper Pottsgrove districts sat down with assessors to determine what could be done to bring in more badly needed funds.

They have shown an awareness that the tax rate is only an index—that part of the problem might be solved in a broader and just application of the tax.

INTRUDERS BEAT, ROB AGED COUPLE

Victim Walks Three Miles, Tells of Attack

WOMAN, 85, HIT BY ROBBER

If Fred and Annie Bieber hadn't run out of eggs, bread, tobacco and peas, no one would have known of the beating they took from robbers.

The aged couple in the woods around Lobachsville were pummeled and robbed Saturday night. But they kept their troubles to themselves.

An empty larder finally forced Fred Bieber, on Tuesday to walk three miles to Becker's general store, Lobachsville. It was there that he explained his bruises.

Two men banged on Bieber's door just after dusk on Saturday. The men charged in, knocked Bieber aside and demanded money.

Bieber's 85 year old wife put up a brief fight and was punched in the face. Bieber, 75, also was struck.

The robbers were in the house 10 minutes and got $10.

Girl 'Active, Alert' Despite Sleeping Drug

A 1 year old Perkiomenville RD 1 girl who on Monday was fed a bottle of sleeping medicine by a 3 year old sister was reported "active and alert" at Pottstown hospital Tuesday night.

A hospital spokesman said Donna Marie Pishock was "a different child than the one that was brought in here yesterday Her condition is very good."

The baby had fallen into a coma twice following the incident Monday.

Local Sailor's Adventure Was Cold, Fascinating

A Pottstown sailor, Electrician's Mate 3 C Ronald Behrmann, was among 250 men aboard the ice breaker Burton Island when it got 375 miles closer to the Antarctic mainland than any previous ship.

Behrmann, who attended

RONALD BEHRMANN

Pottstown High school and lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Behrmann, Pottstown Route 18, when he is home, described his experiences.

The Burton Island and the S. S. Glacier left the United States January 4 and returned to the mainland May 16, on an oceanographic cruise to chart previously unknown shorelines of the Antarctic.

The penetration into shelf ice up to 30 feet thick is particularly significant, Behrmann said, because it will become more difficult in the future to crash close to the actual Antarctic mainland.

IN ADDITION, the exact location of the shoreline of Antarctica is now completely surveyed, finishing a mathematically accurate map of the world.

Previous to the Burton Island's cruise, there was nothing but guesswork showing where the shoreline, covered by the ice of the ages, might be located.

A look at maps of Antarctica will show the shore of the Bellinghausen sea to be a dotted line. Since the Burton Island penetrated to the coast, the exact shoreline is determined, and future maps will show it accurately.

What does a sailor do in the desolation of such a wilderness of ice?

Behrmann said the men stood on deck in a dry cold of about 16 degrees below zero—and

Something to Crow About

H. Bruce Bechtel, owner of Bruce's Pet shop, 22 North Washington street, gets some backtalk from a crow being boarded at the establishment. Among the pets slated to stay with Bechtel and his wife while their masters go on vacation this Summer is a blue jay and numerous hampsters. Mrs. Bechtel recalls the time a hampster got out of his cage and roamed the pet shop for three days before it was found.

Pets Also Enjoy Summer Vacation

Ever wonder what people do with their pets when they (the people) go on vacation?

A lot of them board their pets, either at a pet shop or a veterinarian's office.

And according to Mrs. Margaret Kilburn, operator of the Kilburn Pet House Chestnut and York streets, the pets who stay with her each Summer get a vacation too.

"I've never had an animal get homesick while staying with me," Mrs. Kilburn said Tuesday night. "Most of them act as though they can't wait to get to my home in the country when I call to pick them up."

Mrs. Kilburn says she has about 25 "old regulars" —dogs and cats who stay with her each year while their masters take things easy at the seashore or mountains.

"I treat my boarders just as they're treated at home," the pet shop owner said. "If a dog is used to sleeping in its master's bed, then it sleeps in my bed. If a cat is used to having its back stroked 30 times a day, then I stroke its back 30 times a day."

Unlike many others who board animals, Mrs. Kilburn does not keep her guests in cages at the pet shop.

She takes them home with her to her 92-acre farm near

SKIN DIVERS FIND BODY OF YOUTH

Palm Star Route Swimmer Drowns

COMPANION VAINLY ATTEMPTS RESCUE

A 19 year old youth of Palm Star route drowned Tuesday while swimming with three companions at Powder Valley Mill dam.

Howard Thorpe, whose home is in West Virginia but was staying with his sister Mrs. Boyd Stitt, was in the water six hours before his body was recovered by skin divers from Telford Fire company, Trexlertown State police said.

The dam is located at Zionsville RD, two miles beyond the Montgomery county line in Lehigh county.

Hundreds of persons lined the dam shore while fire company diving units from Allentown, Emmaus and Telford searched for the body. East Greenville fire company brought lights to the dam at 6 p. m. — an hour and 20 minutes before Thorpe was found—for night diving.

He was reported in satisfactory condition early this morning.

Expert in TNT Refuses To Blast Away on 4th

A singular lack of noise on Monday will mark patriotic shindigs in Pottstown.

About the only Pottstonian licensed to blast away on the Fourth of July is Charles I. Stout.

But Stout, 695 North Hanover street, declares he has no intention of exploding dynamite sticks to mark the nation's independence.

It's certainly no fear of TNT that halts Stout from shooting off dynamite. He's played with the dangerous stuff since 1932.

BLASTING is part of his business. Stout owns one of the area's largest excavating firms. He learned about volatile explosives in the old school of blasting.

"Old timers lit a short fuse and ran like hell to jump in a hole for protection," explained Stout.

Today the work is easier and neater. Flying debris is almost unkown, so there is no rush to safety in a foxhole.

Stout uses an electric detonator, some distance from the blasting site. A 1900 pound net of iron covers the ground over each explosion, snuffing any shrapnel.

IT WAS Stout's late father, Erwin, who caused one of the greatest eardrum cracklings here in recent years.

The elder Stout blew up a gigantic pipe at the Pottstown pumping station along the Schuylkill river. That was in the early 1940s and 150 pounds of TNT did the job.

Civic League Adopts Zoning Resolutions

Zoning resolutions for home and for commercial properties were adopted Tuesday by East Vincent Civic league.

Sixty attended the meeting in the Ridge Fire hall. Resolutions seek three acres of land for new homes on any new road, and for one acre of ground for new homes on any existing road.

Another resolution calls for the township's business district to be where present commercial buildings stand. The civic group also wants State drainage tests to be made of land used for building sites.

Boy, 6, Admits He Set $50,000 Zern Barn Fire

A 6 year old boy Tuesday admitted starting the $50,000 blaze that gutted a huge barn on the farm of Pottstown contractor Warren B. Zern.

The boy told authorities he was playing in the barn Sunday evening and tossed a match into a pile of straw. Police pointed out that the child's act "was obviously an accident—he simply didn't realize what could happen."

The investigation was conducted by Lower Pottsgrove Police Chief Harry Chrusch and Sgt. Edward Mays, State trooper from the Belmont barracks.

Ironically, it was also disclosed Tuesday that five other juveniles were responsible for a fire Saturday afternoon on a vacant lot owned by Zern at Feist avenue and Diamond street.

THE YOUNGSTER who started the fire that destroyed the big barn Sunday night, David Stillwell of Norfolk, Va., was visiting relatives in the area.

Richard Moser, borough fire chief, identified the five boys involved in the earlier blaze as four sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Hartzell 3d, 242 Lee avenue, and

3 STUDENTS NEED HOMES FOR WEEKEND

Foreign Group Will Arrive Friday

Only three of the 74 foreign youth and their chaperones that will arrive in Pottstown Friday for the weekend must still be placed, C. Gordon Astheimer, Chamber of Commerce's youth activities chairman, said Tuesday.

The youths are recent high school graduates that have been attending schools in Massachusetts, New York, Connecticut and Vermont.

They came to America last August to spend their final year in school in the United States.

The American Field Service sponsors a two-week trip for the pupils just prior to their return to their homelands.

DURING the trip they will stop at various towns and live for a day or two with American families.

Pottstown, through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, was chosen because it "always rates high with the young people," an AFS correspondent said.

Day of Golf Caddy Passing As Mechanism Takes Over

The golf caddy, as traditional to the American scene as apple pie and the seventh inning stretch, may soon become just a dim figure.

Once there were almost as many caddies as golfers.

They loved the game, were willing to work for almost pennies, and would never carry more than one bag at a time. They kept up with the players and knew how to keep quiet.

Where are some of these caddies today? Well, there are Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Arnold Palmer, Lloyd Mangrum, Art Wall and a real told timer, Gene Sarazen.

THERE WAS another kind of caddy, too. He was the man who was out of a job during the depression, and was willing to work for a nickel on the golf course.

Some of them are still around. They have no families and according to present day pros are the winos of the game. They work for a few dollars and then buy a bottle.

But around the Pottstown area the wino is not a problem. And just what the problem is, is somewhat confusing. The pros agree the caddy is not of the same breed as the old timer and is not the follower of golf as the caddies of the 1930s.

They also agree that golf has growing pains and is in the midst of a transition period.

JACK ROBINSON, golf pro at Spring Ford Country club, said "golf is going through a change and the change is due to the fact that members of country clubs have changed.

"More average income persons are playing the game now and it's getting tough to afford caddies. During the 1930s, country club members were better able to afford them," Robinson said.

He explained that today caddies are mostly school boys that caddy only during the Summer "then disappear" and are not too interested in the game. Some of the larger clubs have professional caddies, however, who are up to 60 years old," Robinson said.

With most of the caddies going back to school during the Fall and Winter, players who want someone or something to

Ideal Summer Days to Continue

Ideal Summer weather will stretch out into the afternoon today, besmirched only by scattered cloudiness and muggy humidity.

Tuesday's weather — sunny, not too humid and right on the nose of average temperature—made it four consecutive days of delightful Summertime.

It will be fair this morning, with a low of 65, growing partly cloudy today and continued warm, with a high close to 90.

Some scattered showers and thundershowers are likely tonight and again tomorrow afternoon. It will be mostly cloudy tomorrow, then clearing and continued warm tomorrow night and Friday.

Man Returns to Pay Bills That Haunted Him 8 Years

A couple walked into Memorial hospital Tuesday morning to pay a bill. This would not be unusual except that the bill was eight years old.

While administrator Albert Pollock looked for Victor Leslie's eight year old billing, Leslie added he also wanted to pay a $138.30 bill from 1951.

Not only was it nearly impossible for Pollock to find the records, but Leslie, of Coatesville, didn't actually owe the bill.

Leslie insisted on paying it, however, and this unusual story unfolded.

LESLIE, 33, was born, and raised in Birdsboro. His wife Evelyn is a Reading native. They moved to Pottstown in August, 1950, and lived in Hilldale, the now-demolished Federal low-rent housing project off Firestone drive at Yost road.

Leslie was employed at the Doehler Jarvis Die Casting company, but was laid off and was out of work for a time. He took an examination and became a patrolman on the Pottstown Police department.

At that time the department didn't issue raincoats, and Leslie found he couldn't afford to buy one of his own. Consequently, he worked through a downpour one day and was soaked to the skin, contracting a virus pneumonia.

He was admitted to Memorial hospital April 27, 1951, and discharged May 4 with expenses of $138.30. Because of his poor financial status, he was eligible to get this service free as a ward of the State.

ABOUT SEVEN months later he was back in as an "out patient" for X-rays, and was again treated as a needy party or indigent person. He was never billed for the costs of either stay, and a claim was made with the State.

During the latter part of 1952 the Leslies moved to Coatesville, where he had the promise of a better position, which didn't materialize once the family got there.

When they moved from Pottstown, the Leslies owed about $300 in bills which they couldn't pay.

Leslie said many tears were shed over the years because of

Governor Says Rockefeller Shows Political Cowardice

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Mont. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller Tuesday slashed at Eisenhower administration defense policies as having produced a "paradox of peril." Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia promptly accused him of impropriety and political cowardice.

This happened at the annual conference of governors—where a potential stop-Kennedy campaign failed to jell among Democratic ranks.

GOVERNORS MEET—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller (top left) of New York talks with Gov. J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware during an informal luncheon at the Governors' Conference in Glacier National Park, Mont.

Rockefeller told fellow governors that more than ever before in history America now stands "more exposed to fatal danger." Once again he called for a big boost in spending for military and civil defense.

Democrats applauded him. A Republican or two took mild exception in the conference hall of the governors themselves.

But then in a news conference afterward, a question prompted something of an explosion from Underwood, a supporter of Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the man who will be temporary chairman of the Republican National Convention.

"I felt the discussion today perhaps went well beyond what might be proper for a governors' conference discussing civil defense," Underwood said.

He also criticized people who, he said, enter a state and exploit its economic conditions for political purposes. That was an obvious reference to the Democratic primary campaign in West Virginia in which Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts defeated Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

Then he took a swipe at anyone who would exploit national defense for political purposes. Asked whether that was what Rockefeller was doing, the governor replied: "Well, what else could it be?"

He added that Rockefeller's criticism of the nation's defense posture "to me indicates a display of political cowardice."

Underwood added that if Rockefeller wanted to act as he had, he should have continued as a candidate for the presidency and gone before the Republican party and people with his views.

Another question: Did the governor think Rockefeller was dividing the GOP and handicapping its chances of winning the November election?

"Well," Underwood said, "I think his statements will be exploited by the opposition. On the other hand, I don't think his political following is such that it will carry too much weight."

Thus Republicans were having something of a family fight in public, something to which Democrats somehow seem more inclined.

But there wasn't much fight Tuesday in a quartet of Democrats.

Four favorite-son Democratic governors from New Jersey, Iowa, Kansas and California talked politics at breakfast. Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey said they had accomplished exactly nothing.

The four were pretty much in agreement that it would be nice to have a "real convention" at Los Angeles next month, one that would "stay open long enough so we can get our money's worth." But they denied they were bent on throwing themselves under the wheels of a bandwagon for Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Others with Meyner at the breakfast were Govs. Edmund G. Brown of California, George Docking of Kansas, and Herschel Loveless of Iowa. Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota also sat down and chatted for a few minutes.

Minimum Wage Increase Clears Rules Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Minimum wage legislation was cleared by the House Rules Committee Tuesday. The House may act on it Thursday.

The Rules Committee, bowing to pressure from the House Democratic leadership, voted to send to the House floor a bill by Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif) and a more modest proposed substitute.

No roll call vote was announced for the committee's action. Chairman Howard W. Smith (D-Va) said he "heard a few nos," but he dismissed them with a wave of his hand.

Roosevelt's bill, which has the support of most Democrats on the House Labor Committee, provides for increasing the $1 an hour minimum wage to $1.25 in three annual steps and extending coverage to 3,509,000 additional workers—employes of retail businesses, hotels and laundries doing an annual business of more than a million dollars.

The substitute, which will be offered for it on the floor, would limit the wage minimum to $1.15 an hour and extend coverage to 1,400,000 new workers, provided they are in interstate commerce.

The substitute was originally introduced by Rep. William H. Ayres (R-Ohio). An identical bill was offered Tuesday by Rep. Paul A. Kitchin (D-NC), indicating the Republican Southern Democrat coalition is prepared to back the substitute.

Community Chest Drops State UF

LANCASTER, PA. — The Lancaster (county) Community Chest announced Tuesday it was wtihdrawing from the Pennsylvania United Fund. A spokesman said the State group was inefficient.

The Community Chest, a member since the State organization was established in 1952, said the manner in which money was handled was administratively costly and inefficient.

As an example, the spokesman said, money collected in this area must be sent to Fund headquarters in Harrisburg and then a portion of it is returned here for distribution.

In addition to the administrative costs thus incurred, the spokesman said, some of the Lancaster funds are used for groups such as the United Seamen's Service which are of little, if any, benefit in the Lancaster area.

In 1959 the Lancaster group contributed $24,550 to the State group.

The withdrawal from the fund is effective July 1.

Musician Indicted For Kidnap-Murder

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—A federal grand jury Tuesday indicted Melvin David Rees Jr., 31, a musician, for the kidnap and murder of a Virginia mother and daughter.

Rees, now being held in jail in Memphis, Tenn., also is charged in Virginia with kidnaping and killing two other members of the family—the husband and another daughter.

Rees was arrested last Friday in West Memphis, Ark., in a store where he was a piano salesman, on a charge of fleeing prosecution for murder of another woman.

The federal indictment here charges him with transporting Mrs. Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 28, and her daughter, Susan Ann, 5, from Bumpass in Louisa County, Va., to a farm lane near Gambrills, Md. Their bodies were found there in March of last year.

The bodies of Jackson and a daughter, Janet, 1½, were found 17 days earlier near Fredericksburg, Va.

Russia Plans New Shots On Pacific Rocket Range

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union announced Tuesday night it will start a new series of powerful rocket shoots into the central Pacific between July 5 and 31.

The target area of about 50,000 square miles slightly overlaps the zone the Russians used for firing their first rocket into the mid-Pacific last January. It is about 1,000 miles southwest of Hawaii.

The July target area will be about 150 miles farther to the southeast than the one in January, however.

On their first try the Russians said they came within a mile of the target from 7,000 miles away.

The United States has since fired an Atlas rocket 9,000 miles, or more than a third of the way around the world, from Cape Canaveral past the southern tip of South Africa.

The Soviet announcement by Tass, official news agency, said the July target practice will be with powerful multistage rockets, minus the final stage. Presumably this meant they will not be armed with warheads or similar payloads.

Soviet scientists have indicated that the purpose of using central Pacific testing grounds is to develop rockets that can reach Venus or Mars.

The announcement followed speeches in Moscow Tuesday night by Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Soviet Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky asserting that Soviet military forces are being strengthened and their switch to rocket weapons is being accelerated.

The official Tass news agency said next month's firings will be part of a program "for further scientific research and experimental designing in the sphere of space problems.

Tass said Soviet ships will be sent to the target area to make the "necessary measurements." It is within 600 miles of Christmas island, where the British exploded their first hydrogen bomb.

The United States' Palmyra Island is only about 200 miles to the east of the zone.

The Soviet government asked all countries with vessels and planes in the area to keep them out of the target space, which was described carefully as to longitude and latitude.

Rigged TV, Payola Outlawed by House

WASHINGTON (AP) —Legislation to outlaw rigged TV shows, payola, and other irregularities in broadcasting rolled through the House Tuesday. But another attempt to have the government regulate television and radio networks was rejected.

Few dissenters remained as the House completed five days of off-and-on debate concerning the bill to punish stations and individuals that flout broadcasting law.

A vote of 208-15 passed the measure and sent it across the Capitol, where it may be considered Wednesday by the Senate Commerce Committtee.

Provisions of the bill were fashioned by the House Commerce Committee, parent unit of an investigating group which spent months exploring quiz show and payola scandals.

Passage of some such measure was virtually assured in a single hour last November, when Charles Van Doren confessed that he had been tipped in advance to the answers that gave him the aura of intellectual genius on the quiz show, Twenty-One.

The House bill would subject anyone involved in the broadcast of fixed contests to a $10,000 fine and a year in jail. It would establish the same penalty for dealing in payola, an undercover reward for plugging a song, product, or service without identifying it as paid advertising.

More flexible authority to crack down on stations that break broadcasting laws or regulations would be granted the Federal Communications Commission. The FCC, now limited to revoking licenses, could suspend a station for 10 days and fine it $1,000 a day.

Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich) sought to empower the FCC to license networks. He said they should be the target of government action, holding that most of the FCC jurisdiction extends at present only to individual stations.

Kennedy Leads On Democratic Vote Scorecard

WASHINGTON (AP) — The makeup of the Democratic National Convention will be completed on Thursday, when Mississippi will select a 23-vote delegation.

The current unofficial standings in the contest for the Democratic presidential nomination, based on primary results, state convention actions and Associated Press polls are:

John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts 524.

Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas 204½.

Stuart Symington of Missouri 73½.

Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota 53½.

Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois 33½.

Favorite sons and others 205.

Uncommitted 404.

Kentucky with 31 votes, and Montana with 17 were the latest to choose delegations; pending completion of polls in those states, their delegates were cataloged as uncommitted.

These figures on delegate support are basic. They do not reflect claims of the various camps, some of which have gone well above 700 first-ballot votes for Kennedy and above 500 for Johnson. It takes 761 to nominate.

Reading Railroad Finds Profits Off 25 Percent

PHILADELPHIA, (AP) — Reading Railroad profits for the first five months of this year are running more than 25 percent below the similar 1959 period.

And earnings for May, 1960 were less than half of profits for May of last year.

Reading reported earnings of $762,174 for the first five months compared to $1,008,492 last year. Last month the railroad earned $165,399 compared to $396,752 for May, 1959.

President E. Paul Gangewere attributed last year's bigger profits to heavier freight revenues caused by the building up of inventories by firms "in the face of a threatened steel strike."

House Report Charges Army Bought 19,000 Faulty Tanks, Other Vehicles

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators Tuesday made public a hotly disputed report charging that serious defects reduced the usefulness of thousands of Army tanks and other combat vehicles.

The blistering 192-page report—the result of a four-year investigation—was drafted by the General Accounting Office, the auditing agency of Congress.

The GAO charged, among other things, that the Army has purchased nearly 19,000 combat and tactical vehicles valued at about $1,600,000,000 that have deficiencies "which seriously impair their operation and maintenance."

Challenging this, the Army termed the report as unfair and said it is studded with inaccuracies and misleading generalizations.

Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker accused the GAO of playing a numbers game and of relying on bookkeepers and auditors to interpret technical engineering data.

Both the report and the Army denials, were made public by a House Armed Services subcommittee after three weeks of closed-door hearings.

The subcommittee, for the moment at least, withheld any comments or conclusions of its own.

Chairman Porter Hardy Jr. (D-Va) said merely that release of the report, sent to Congress last May 19, was delayed until the Army had a chance to present its arguments.

The report, covering vehicles produced since 1952, fired critical broadsides at nine different series of Army battlefield vehicles—ranging from heavy tanks to light weapons carriers.

However, the brunt of the criticism was aimed at the M48 and M48A1 medium tanks, the family of vehicles which form the backbone of the Army's armored forces.

A study of maintenance records, the GAO said, showed that "breakdowns in the engine, transmission and track suspension system areas were of such a nature that the tanks were frequently out of commission despite limited usage."

"At three installations we found that failures of all kinds impairing the operation and maintenance of these vehicles occurred on the average of once each 37 miles of operation," the report said.

The GAO said the army rushed into volume production of the M48 series during the Korean War emergency, aware that serious bugs and deficiencies hadn't been ironed out. The Army, according to the report, counted on correcting these during production or by subsequent modification.

This hasn't always worked out, the GAO said.

"Initial production vehicles were defective to such an extent that they were not acceptable even for training purposes," the report said.

The Army, in testimony before the subcommittee, challenged the report almost point by point.

"Unfounded conclusions," said Brucker.

"No matter how sincere they may have intended to be," Brucker said, "I submit that the efforts of the GAO auditors were misguided in attempting to appraise qualities of Army vehicles."

He contended the report shows "the auditors have been led to a series of conclusions which cannot in any fair sense be substantiated. Their statistics reflect anything from a misplaced washer to the replacement of a motor."

"The auditors, evidently unable to distinguish between minor and major types of deficiencies, simply totaled the entirety of these entries which they have found in Army records and indulged in the unsupportable assumption that each item represents a substantial failure in a vehicle," he said.

17 Pound, 2 Ounce Baby Born

ST. HYACINTHE, Que. (AP)—A baby weighing 17 pounds, 2 ounces at birth five days ago has lost one pound.

A nurse at the hospital where the infant son of Mrs. Benoit Beauchemin of Beloeil, was delivered said, however, the drop in weight is normal.

It is possible the boy may be the heaviest baby ever born alive in Canada.

Mrs. Beauchemin's baby, measuring 24 inches in length, is her 13th child. All the other 12 are living.

The mother, 38-year-old wife of a farmer, weighed 250 pounds before the birth of the child. She is 5 feet 10. Her husband weighs 153 pounds.

John B. Kelly's Will Revealed; Prince Rainier Does Not Share

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Prince Rainier of Monaco was cut off without a nickel in the will of his millionaire father-in-law John B. Kelly. But it wasn't a snub of Rainier or two other sons-in-law and no hard feelings should result, Kelly wrote in the will made public Tuesday.

"I don't want to give the impression I'm against sons-in-law. If they are the right type, they will provide for themselves and their families and what I am able to give my daughters will help pay the dress shop bills which, if they continue as they have started out, under the tutelage of their mother, will be quite considerable."

The will, written humorously in lay language by Kelly himself, basically leaves the bulk of his vast estate to his wife, his three daughters, including Princess Grace, the former movie queen, and his son, John B. Kelly Jr.

For probate purpose the personal property was estimated at upwards of $500,000. This does not include his ownership of the nation's largest brick contracting firm, the Atlantic City Race Track or other corporate holdings.

Kelly, an Olympic rowing champion in the 1920s, dictated the will April 14. He died last week of cancer at the age of 70.

He said that for years he had been unable to understand clearly wills written by lawyers and was writing his own with the hope it would be understandable and legal.

"Kids will be called 'kids' and not issue and it will not be cluttered up with 'parties of the first part', 'per stirpes,' 'perpetuities' and a lot of other terms that I am sure are only used to confuse those for whose benefit it was written."

Kelly made the unusual observation that he was of sound mind and added: "Some lawyers will question this when they read my will; however, I have my opinion of some of them, so that makes it even."

To his son, like the father a rowing champion, Kelly said he was leaving his trophies and personal belongings except his clothing "as it seems unnecessary to give him something of which he already has taken possession."

Princess Grace was referred to in the will, playfully, as "Her Serene Highness, Princess Grace." This is her title.

And Kelly left $1,000 to a chauffeur. He stipulated the chauffeur was to be kept in the family employ "as long as he behaves himself well, making due allowances for minor errors of the flesh."

His widow gets a third of the estate, in trust, with the trustees—a bank and his son—to see that she can live in the manner to which she has become accustomed. And "emergencies" like needing a new fur coat or car should be handled with this in consideration.

His stipulation on the sons-in-law provided that when one of his daughters dies, her share will go to her children. If there are none, it reverts to the funds of their brother and sisters.

The will also revealed that its contents are known to the family before Kelly's death.

"I can think of nothing more ghastly than the heirs sitting around, listening to some representative reading a will. They always remind me of buzzards and vultures awaiting the last breath of the stricken," Kelly wrote.

He said he hoped his survivors never would have to "go into court over spoils for, to me, the all time low in family affairs is a court fight, in which I have seen families engage."

He was installed by Vicar Paul Miller, who was captured by the Japanese at Singapore in 1942 and worked as a prisoner on the Burma-Thai railway, before a congregation including some other veterans of Japanese war prisons. There was not a sign of resentment against Kanoh or his people.

Can We Tame Tornado?

POTTSTOWN'S neighbors in the Eshbach-Niantic region, today are returning to normalcy after a nerve-shattering experience with a tornado last week. The populace's nerves still are slightly frayed; their homes and barns are worse off, because the blow ripped off roofs, collapsed barns, damaged automobiles and equipment.

Millions of dollars worth of damage may have resulted from the visit of the strange twister. The total loss never may be known. Fortunately, none was killed and none injured seriously. An the generosity of kind-hearted neighbors who went all out to help clean up the debris and rebuild some of the structures, is helping to ease the pain of the losses.

Vicious and freakish, tornadoes such as ruined the neighboring territory long have eluded man's attempts to understand their mysterious violence. But scientists are increasingly hopeful that man will some day conquer this rotary storm that kills scores of people and causes millions of dollars worth of damage each year.

No scientist can yet predict just when or where a tornado will burst from the clouds and, with an unearthly roar, scythe across the countryside. In its wild swath of destruction, trees are ripped up by the roots, chickens plucked naked, and streams sucked dry. The whirling wind can drive straws into fence posts. It can toss a locomotive about like a child's toy. It can cause a house to explode into bits of kindling wood.

As a twister's fury shatters meteorological instruments, scientists can only estimate the top speed of its spiraling winds. Velocity may range up to 400, or possibly 600, miles per hour.

Twenty years ago, weathermen knew almost nothing about tornadoes. Today, though there are many gaps in their knowledge, they can tell when conditions are ripe for tornadoes to develop, and they have set up a warning system for use when a tornado has actually been sighted. They can also trace the twisters with radar.

Moreover, meteorologists now are cautionsly optimistic that man will one day be able to stop tornadoes in their tracks. The scientists have come up with an arsenal of ideas on how this may be done.

One dramatic suggestion is that guided missiles be fired into tornadoes to dissipate their energy high above the ground. However, Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer, chief of the U.S. Weather bureau, says meteorologists are more hopeful about several other possibilities. One is to seed the clouds with rain-forming chemicals, thus releasing the cloud energy before a death-dealing cone swings to the ground. Another is to have an airplane drag a wire through the clouds and draw off their electrical charge. Electricity may play an important role in tornadoes.

At present, Dr. Reichelderfer says, there are no actual plans to test these procedures. Meteorologists still need to learn more about the basic physics of clouds.

Tornadic conditions develop when a cool, dry air mass moves over warm, moist surface air. This creates an unstable build-up of energy, because cold air weighs more than warm air. If there is a narrow band of strong winds at intermediate levels a whirling exchange of air may result. This whirl may be likened to the vortex created when water goes down a bathtub drain.

A tornado is born several thousand feet above the ground. It may never touch the earth, or it may bounce along the ground, leaving some areas unscathed in its path of destruction. Generally, it travels no more than 20 to 40 miles, although it may go 300. Such a Midwest twister in 1925 killed 689 persons and injured 1980 others.

To understand the movements of tornadoes, meteorologists have devised ingenious chambers in which they manufacture twisters by means of fans and warm water.

They are not yet sure that these model tornadoes accurately duplicate the real thing, but they are confident that they are at last moving in on nature's most vicious storm.

One valuable instrument forces potential tornadoes to flash their own alarm. Known as a "pressure-jump indicator," it records and signals the ominous rise in pressure that often means the birth of a tornado.

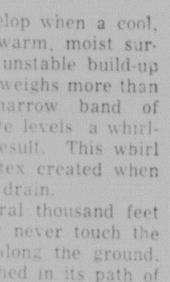

Radar can spot tornadoes. The first wide-spread network of storm-warning radar was established in Texas in 1954. Since then the Weather bureau has installed radar at strategic stations in many parts of the United States. The units serve the dual purpose of tracking hurricanes as well as tornadoes.

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where with two U.S. satellites being boosted into orbit via the same launching rocket it appears that Uncle Sam, too, in the great American baseball tradition, is going in for double headers, space-wise.

Loud Ambulance Noise Brings Protest

Feared For Wife

To the Editor: Seldom am I moved to publicly voice my sentiments, but I want to concur wholeheartedly with your editorial "Didn't Pottstown Have Fun?" The display of the ambulances and their ear-splitting noise on Sunday was a public disgrace.

I have an ill wife. I thought I would lose her when the sirens began to sound so loudly. Then when the ambulances continued, I was nearly frantic.

I live in a section where there's noise. The playing and the shouting of children don't disturb us. The traffic noises don't either.

But when the sirens whine so unnecessarily, I think I have to speak up as a citizen and protest. I think they ought to take the sirens off the automobiles if the human beings who run them can't control themselves.

There's too much dangerous driving of the ambulances. They make an Indianapolis strip of High street.

I'm told it's not unusual for these wild drivers to race right up the middle of the street, especially on a Saturday when they can show off. It's just sheer luck they haven't killed somebody.

What's Recreation Worth?

To the Editor: A pox on the recreation commission for dropping the Senior High school basketball league.

This valuable deterrent to juvenile delinquency has likely saved numerous boys from trouble over the years. Now what are these kids going to do with their evenings in the Wintertime?

The recreation commission is supposed to keep our children from delinquency. Then why do they shorten the playground time, close up dances, cut down on youth activities and sports leagues?

I'm willing to pay my taxes. Stop hiring expensive psychologists to figure out why the kids are frustrated. Give the kids something to do with their time, and they won't become problems.

It'll cost $200 to run that basketball league. If one boy is saved from killing himself in a hotrod or going to prison for robbing a store, its worth the $200.

Stop and think.

The Forgotten Street

To the Editor: Everyone has heard about that lost city, Atlantis. But learned men say it's just a myth. "How could a city be lost," they say, "wouldn't there be some record somewhere in this world."

Well I can see how a city can be lost. And I know of a street that is lost. Honest, I do.

The street is Manatawny street. And I bet that it doesn't exist in the records of the State. Officials, too, have forgotten about it.

Just drive down it and you'll feel the bumps and grinds that'll jar the daylights out of you.

Now surely if the State knew that this street existed it would repair it. No one could possibly ignore the condition.

Reasons to Stay Home

To the Editor: I was in Philadelphia a day last week and took the little woman along so she could have her shopping spree in the big city. She had the idea that she would save by shopping there.

And do you know what she bought? Nothing. That's right. She saved me dough and it's not too often that a woman will go shopping and come away empty handed.

First thing she spotted in a city store was a picnic table. She wanted one but the $30 price floored her. She told me later that she saw the same redwood table advertised in The Mercury earlier in the week for $19. And she was right.

She told me she looked at some other stuff but in the long run decided that Pottstown prices were lower.

The only money we spent was for dinner. Wasn't bad either, but there are places in Pottstown where we could enjoy the same quality of food for less.

Just wanted to get my point across that although grass may look greener on the other side, it isn't.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

TIMMY T., aged 5, is a bright youngster but timid.

"Dr. Crane, he has always sucked his thumb," Timmy's mother protested unhappily.

"I have tried putting bitter medicine on the thumb and have wrapped it up so that it seemed too cumbersome to be attractive, but he involuntarily gets it into his mouth.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Mercury, enclosing a long 4c stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

"Now that he is going to start Kindergarten next term, I am afraid his classmates will ridicule him and call him a baby or a sissy.

"So how can we stop Timmy's habit of thumb sucking?"

THIS HABIT often starts during the early months of life when a baby isn't getting enough milk. Maybe the mother's supply is inadequate but they fool along, hoping it will increase.

It is common for hungry babies to toss their hands around. Ultimately, they reach the mouth, and soon the infants are sucking on their fist or fingers, though the thumb seems the preferred object.

After the habit becomes entrenched, even though the child may then be getting a richer milk supply, as from an evaporated milk formula the youngster may still carry on with the thumb sucking.

Many of these nuisance habits thus originate in a situation where the action was once logical or helpful. But the original need may then disappear, yet the habit will persist of its own momentum.

IF THE habit has already developed, however, as is Timmy's case, then it is wise to try several measures until you obtain desired results.

The thumb-in-mouth situation has had pleasure linked with it for several years. So we try to link displeasure therewith, as by painting the thumb with some bitter substance. His mother has tried this.

Secondly, we migh place the arm under tension while the thumb is in the mouth, thus injecting fatigue and muscle pain.

To do this, cut out a thin strip of rubber from an old inner tube, as boys do when making sling shots.

Pin one end of the strip to the wristband of the child's pajamas or nightgown, but fasten the other to his waistband or the mattress.

When he lifts the hand to insert his thumb in his mouth, the rubber will be stretched. This will exert a continuous pull or his hand and quickly fatigue the muscles of the arm. Soon the hand will slip out of his mouth.

(Associated Press Observer)

Good weather and a red-hot senatorial race brought a heavy turnout of voters Tuesday in what could be a showdown test of the Republican administration's popularity in the farm belt.

Gov. John E. Davis, a Republican, met Rep. Quentin Burdick, a Democrat, in an election that has attracted national interest. At stake was the Senate seat left vacant when GOP Sen. William Langer died.

This was a long, hard-fought, well organized campaign — big names from both parties hurried in to help—and the candidates still had a long wait for the verdict.

Only four cities have voting machines, and the largest, Fargo, isn't among them. If the vote hits around 200,000, most of which must be counted by hand, it may be Wednseday, or possibly even later, before anyone knows for sure what happened.

They vote late in North Dakota. The polls opened at 9 a. m. and closed at 8 p. m.

Here's a brief sketch of the two men and what they have stood for:

Burdick, 52, lawyer. Has a fine political name. His father, Usher Burdick, spent 20 years in Congress as a Republican, but campaigned vigorously for his Democratic son. Two years ago, Quentin Burdick, with the support of the Nonpartisan League, became the first Democrat North Dakota ever sent to the House.

Burdick consistently has steadily fought the administration's farm policies, which he claims threaten to depopulate this already sparsely populated state. He favors federal aid to education, slum clearance, better care for the aged.

* * *

Davis, 47, rancher and banker. Spent four years in the state Senate before his election as governor in 1956. His supporters frequently point out he is a war hero and a former commander of the state American Legion. Burdick, who hurt his knees playing football, was turned down at the induction center.

* * *

Davis doesn't like the GOP farm program, either, but he hasn't talked about it as much as Burdick has.

Chiefly Davis' pitch has been his record as governor, that under his administration taxes weren't raised. He decries large federal spending.

In a hot campaign like this, it's probably natural both sides should cry "foul."

The Senate Elections subcommittee has sent a couple of investigators to look into a formal Democratic complaint that anonymous leaflets have been circulated. One of these is entitled: "Quentin Burdick and Communist associates."

Republicans have brought a countercharge that outsiders were fetched in as poll watchers.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Tea Drinking High . . . 300 Billion Cups . . .

★ TEA BREAK?—Time was when the coffee break machine gave an opportunity for the addicts to buy it straight, with cream, or with cream and sugar. That was it. But now, with the intricate machine handing out all those types, hot chocolate, tea straight, with cream, or with sugar and cream, and making change besides, there's more marveling around the monster. Tea for a coffee break? It was surprising how many of the gang were going for tea. Fact is, the column was told increasing numbers of people have started enjoying "a nice cup of tea" in recent years. In 1959, world tea output reached a record 1,671,400,000 pounds, enough for 334,280,000,000 (that's billions) cheering cups. Production has risen more than 57 percent in the past two decades. . . .

TEA IS the most popular drink in Ceylon, Pakistan, India, and the Soviet union. It has made remarkable gains in North Africa and the Near East. Even the British have not reached the saturation point. They have increased per capita consumption to almost 10 pounds a year, the world's highest rate. Coffee still holds sway in the United States, but tea has millions of adherents. The United States is the second largest tea importer. . .

* * *

★ ACCORDING to Chinese legend, the first cup of tea was brewed by Emperor Shen Nung in 2737 B.C. The emperor, known as the Divine Healer, always boiled his drinking water. One day, leaves from a tea tree blew into the bubbling water. Shen Nung inhaled the delicious aroma and promptly drank the brew. The first authentic mentions of tea occur in 4th-century Chinese writings. By A.D. 600, most Chinese drank it as a combination beverage and medicine. Buddhist priests took tea to Japan, where they described it as "a divine remedy and a supreme gift of heaven." Popularity of tea was assured after it cured a famous general of a monumental stomach ache. The formal Japanese tea ceremony was started in the 15th century, and it continues today as a means of achieving the beautiful in daily routine. . .

IN ENGLAND, where tea is a way of life, the drink was an object of puzzlement and dispute when introduced in the 1650's. Many thought it was simply another potherb. They boiled the tea, threw away the water, and served the leaves with butter. Although tea was heralded as "by all Physitians approved" in an early advertisement, some Englishmen attacked it as harmful to health. One of the brew's most ardent defenders was Dr. Samuel Johnson who proclaimed himself "a hardened and shameless tea drnker. . . who with tea amused the evening, with tea solaced the midnight, and with tea welcomed the morning." . . .

★ ANNA, Duchess of Bedford, instituted the pervasive ritual of afternoon tea about 130 years ago. She began to take tea and cakes at 5 o'clock to stave off what she called that "sinking feeling." The United States is credited with two innovations: iced tea and tea bags. Iced tea was improvised at the St. Louis World's Fair of 1904 when the hot variety proved decidedly unpopular in the sweltering heat. Tea bags were inadvertently invented in the same year by Thomas Sullivan, a New York tea merchant who sent his customers samples in small silk sacks. Soon they were asking for more tea packaged in bags. Today, 40 percent of the tea consumed in the United States goes into iced tea, and 58 percent is sold in bags. Some peoples scorn tea bags and iced tea, including the Tibetans, whose tea comes in bricks and is brewed with rancid yak butter. . . Your Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IF YOU sunburn easily, or suffer severe allergic effects from the hot rays of the Summer sun, it might be a good idea to consult your doctor about the advisability of taking sensitization treatments.

Clinical tests indicate that the use of the drug methoxsalen gives good results in preventing sunburn and light allergy.

The fundamental principal of the treatment is similar to that taken by many persons to avoid hay fever, asthma and other Summer allergies.

The patient is sensitized with the drug and then is exposed to sunlight for short periods of time and eventually develops a resistance to harmful effects. Of course, only the portion of the skin that is exposed to the sunlight becomes resistant.

Doctors generally recommended an initial dose of 20 mg. of methoxsalen for most adults. For children, and adults who are especially sensitive, about half the dosage is best.

The drug should be given about two hours before the patient goes into the sun.

Usually it is best to begin with an exposure of about half an hour in the afternoon sun. Certainly the initial exposure should be no longer than 30 minutes. In fact, an extremely sensative person probably should begin with only one minute along about 5 p. m. when the sun's rays are not so strong.

Increasing the rate of exposure should be gradual, just as it is with anyone seeking to get a good suntan without getting burned. If sunburn does occur, the exposure time should be cut.

The average individual will be resistant to sunburn after about 14 exposures. However, it may take from four to six weeks of methoxsalen treatment before an extremely sentative person can resist burning.

This type of protection against sunburn can be acquired without development of any suntan. A deep tan will develop, however, if the individual continues to take the drug with prolonged exposure to the sun.

Researchers suggest that the drug should not be given to pregnant women until more research is conducted.

17, and Richard, 21, they and Donald Cope, 22, North Wales, left for the dam at 11:30 a. m.

She said the group swam there often during the Summer before going to their night jobs.

"They swam the length of the dam (quarter of a mile) with LeRoy getting to shore first with Howard just behind, then Richard and Donald," she said.

When Thorpe was just some 20 feet from shore, she said, he called "Dick, come here." Richard, who has a life saving certificate he earned while in the service, swam to him and grabbed him by the hair.

She said "then Howard must have panicked because he grabbed Richard's trunks and they both went under. Richard was able to push him up but Howard went down before Richard could get to him again."

Investigating from Trexlertown State police barracks were Sgt. Harold Schafer, Trooper Theodore Malinowski and Trooper Wilbur Thomas.

A highlight of the conference session will be an ordination service on the first weekend. Scheduled to receive the sacred rites of ordination and the laying on of hands are C. L. Brooks, of Philadelphia, and James Washington, Akron, Ohio.

Ideal Summer Days to Continue

right in line with what is expected in this region this time of year.

It was not as warm as Monday's 86, and another June afternoon passed without a 90 degree temperature. The last 90 reading in Pottstown was Sept. 10, 1959.

Temperatures were over 90 the last five days of June, 1959, with a 94 on the 28th, the highest ever recorded on that date.

Thundershowers moved from Ohio into the western border counties of the State about dusk Tuesday and at 10 p.m. rain was reported in Pittsburgh and Erie.

Temperatures are practically normal for the month to date, and precipitation is a little over average 2.84 actual as compared to 3.50 normal.

The mercury has climbed above the average temperatures numerous days to make up for the deficiency of high temperature days. Pottstown usually gets six "hot" days of 90 degrees or higher in an average June.

French Deputy Lodges Complaint

PARIS (AP)—Argentine President Arturo Frondizi's Paris visit got some French deputies in trouble with their wives.

Officials—desiring to warn the deputies that the presidential visit had postponed the Assembly session one hour—sent telegrams at dawn to their Paris and provincial addresses. Not knowing they had been sent to both addresses, a few wives immediately telephoned their Paris-based husbands to learn why they were not at home.

Deputy George Souchal lodged an official complaint in the name of his wife, against such errors.

Terrific Golf Drive Causes Consternation

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Dr. Ray H. Richardon hit a terrific drive off the 11th tee at Tucson Country Club.

The ball soared upward and then, as Richardson described it, "There was a great spark and a noise like a cannon."

The drive:

Knocked down a 13,000-volt, high-tension wire.

Started a small grass fire.

Shut off all power, including the cooling, in the clubhouse

Blacked out an entire subdivision surrounding the course, instantly cutting off cooling for scores of homes.

Stopped all golfing on the back nine of the course for 2½ hours.

Her gown was made by her mother. She carried a white Bible with an orchid, carnations, ivy and baby's breath.

Mrs. Dale Stoltzfus, New York, was matron of honor. She wore an orchid street length dress of nylon chiffon over taffeta. The bodice was styled similar to the bride's gown. Sleeves were three-quarter length.

A cummerbund encircled the waist of the full skirt.

Bridesmaids, Mary Ann Zook, cousin of the bride, Honey Brook, and Edna King, Malvern, were dressed like the honor attendant in pink.

Researchers Consider Salvage of Cherry Pits

About 10 percent of the cherry crop are the pits—the seeds. University of Wisconsin researchers are now trying to salvage these seeds from waste for their 6 percent oil (much like corn oil) yield and their 4½ percent nitrogen, or crude protein, for animal and poultry feeding.

"Why Did My Husband's Madras Sport Shirt Fade?"
—Mrs. W. R. G.

Dear Mrs. W. R. G.:

It's supposed to. Genuine Madras cloth from India not only fades but has bumpy imperfections, will shrink and often has a swamp water odor. Genuine Madras is hand-woven on spools and spindles that are kept wet so that "bleeding" of the vegetable dyes starts at once. Importers declare this wash water gives Madras its odor.

One of the charms about genuine Madras is its ability to fade or "bleed". That stamps it as genuine. As the dyes wash out and blend together, Madras takes on a soft, muted appearance. Some labels state that Madras is guaranteed to "bleed".

Because genuine Madras shrinks, many manufacturers tailor Madras garments a bit large. Others instruct purchasers to hand-wash Madras to limit shrinkage. The bumpy weaving imperfections of Madras also identify the fabric as hand-loomed.

Naturally, the slow-process of hand-weaving Madras limits the supply. Prices are high and American imitations are coming on the market. "Madras-style" fabrics will be smoother, color-fast, preshrunk cottons and synthetics. Genuine Madras has made one concession to Americanization. Many patterns and colors are designed in New York to fit American fashion trends, but, Mrs. W. R. G., genuine Madras may fade and shrink and smell.

Small Wire Whips Essential in Kitchen

Small wire whips are inexpensive and indispensable in making many sauces; use it also when you are whipping up an envelope of instant potato granules. Interestingly enough, a whip will make the potatoes whiter than will a spoon because with it a goodly amount of air is incorporated.

Snapdragons Decorate Grace Church For Mainster-Houck Double Ring Rites

White snapdragons and chrysanthemums decorated the altar of Grace Lutheran church for the marriage of Arlene Houck, and Roger Mainster.

The Rev. Richard G. Hoffert and the Rev. Morris F. Houck Jr., brother of the bride, officiated at the double ring service.

The former Miss Houck is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris F. Houck Sr., 539 Spruce street. Parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. S. Edwin Mainster, reside at White Marsh, Md.

Bridal music was presented by Irvin Dohner, organist, brother-in-law of the bride. Soloist was Delano Haines.

Two hundred guests attended from Florida, Maryland, Illinois, Washington, D. C. and Pennsylvania.

Mr. Houck escorted his daughter to the altar. Her gown of chantilly lace was fashioned with a basque bodice, sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves.

A large pouf bow in back accented the bouffant skirt which swept into a chapel train. A crown of pearls and iridescents secured her fingertip veil of French illusion.

Her diamond brooch necklace was a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Irvin Dohner was matron of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Hathaway Geyer, sister of the bride, Pottstown; Ellen Monnin, Esther Luft and Mrs. Delano Haines, all of Baltimore, Md.

All attendants were gowned in turquoise chiffon. Rounded neckline and wasp waists were banded with satin. Skirts were soft, flowing and fully gathered.

To complete their ensembles, they wore matching headpieces and carried colonial bouquets of yellow pompons.

Elon Monnin, Towson, Md., performed the duties of best man.

Ushers were Richard Mainster, White Marsh, Md., brother of the bridegroom; Hathaway Geyer, Herbert Hoffman, Baltimore, Md. and William Mercer, White Marsh, Md.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Houck was attired in a pink lace dress, Mrs. Mainster, the bridegroom's mother, chose blue lace. Both wore white cymbidium orchard corsages.

Following a reception in the parish building, the couple left for a honeymoon at Deep Creek, Md. They will reside at Miami Springs, Fla.

The bride is director of Christian education at Second Lutheran church, Baltimore, Md. Her husband is a student in business administration at the University of Miami.

Rev. William Guenther Officiates At Lownes-Allebach Wedding Rites

The Rev. William Guenther, pastor of First United Presbyterian church, officiated at the marriage of Verna Mae Allebach and Howard Gerald Lownes Saturday in Lower Providence Presbyterian church.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Allebach, reside at Eagleville road, Eagleville. Mr. Lownes is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Lownes Sr., King of Prussia.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of slik organza and hand clipped chantilly lace styled with a sabrina neckline and wrist-pointed sleeves.

The bodice, which dipped to a V in front, was embellished with sequins and pearls. Her skirt featured a lace panel in front and an overskirt starting at the hips and ending in a five-yard cathedral train.

Appliques also accented the ensemble. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and iridescents. She carried a white prayerbook with a white orchid and baby's breath.

Mrs. Lloyd Wentzel was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a floor length gown of dotted swiss over blue taffeta designed with a tucked bodice, trimmed in lace, square neckline and short sleeves.

A cummerbund of blue taffeta encircled the waist and tied in a bow at back. In her hair she wore a crown with face veil. Her old fashioned bouquet was formed of carnations which contrasted to the gown.

Bridesmaids were Kathryn Evans, Pottstown RD 2; Lois Keyser, and Mrs. Melvin Allebach, both of Norristown RD 1, and Lillian Walsky, Pottstown RD 3.

PERFUME 'ROUND THE CLOCK

Q.—Dear Jane: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.

Mrs. G. B.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance and was originated by Houbigant. Try their Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $2.25 plus tax.

Day of Golf Caddy Passing As Mechanism Takes Over

carry their bag will rely on electric carts.

STEVEN GRADY, golf pro at Brookside Country club, said the caddies are "not at all the same as years ago. They make more money now and usually stop caddying when they're 17 or 18 and get another job making more money.

"We used to have around 100 here and now have 40 to 50 during the Summer and a few who come out just to make a few dollars and then quit.

"I'm afraid that caddies will almost vanish some day. The carts have cut down on caddying and it's going to get worse," Grady said.

"In the old days a boy had to work at becoming a caddy," said George Scott, pro at Jeffersonville Golf club.

He explained that now boys refuse to train for a caddying job. "I had to work my way up to become a caddy. I first had to caddy for caddies on Monday morning then chase balls for a practicing pro and then caddy for the ladies before becoming a regular caddy."

SCOTT CONDEMNED the electric cart, but said "you can't fight city hall. The caddies caused the cart because of their attitude. They said why train to become a good caddy when they can just carry two bags and make $6-7 a round.

"If you play on a strange course that's tough you almost have to have a caddy to guide you around," Scott said.

But, Scott said, there is a chance for the caddy to become what he once was if a program of the municipal golf courses in Philadelphia works. He said a caddy course will begin soon to instruct young boys in the art of caddying.

Scott added that there would never be the great golf players like Hogan and Snead unless the players begin at the caddy level.

"There seems to be something you learn as a caddy that goes along with you. It's an intangible thing and hard to explain.

"There will be good players but no outstanding ones unless they come from the caddy ranks."

Dr. John B. Frantz Elected Chairman

The Rev. Dr. John B. Frantz, pastor of the Trinity Reformed United Church of Christ, was elected chairman of the Pottstown Inter-Service club Tuesday.

Ontgoing chairman is the Rev. John L. Smoker, pastor of the Salem Evangelical United Brethren church.

It was announced that there would be no August meeting. The Rev. Smoker was in charge of the meeting at the Howard Johnson restaurant.

William Acker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Acker, 1088 Hale street. All are juveniles.

Moser said the five admitted playing with matches in the empty lot, and one of the Hartzell boys said an older brother had been smoking. The investigation will continue today.

Meanwhile, Zern said he "might consider" rebuilding the barn on his land along Route 663.

* * *

"I GO away in the morning and I hate to come home at night because I know what I'll have to look at," the prominent businessman said.

"Things look dead around here without the barn. It's as though an old friend had died."

Zern said he "wouldn't swap if someone offered me double the $50,000 I lost in the fire. I really loved that barn."

The barn had been insured for $20,000, but Zern dropped his insurance policy two weeks ago.

The contractor said he's had several offers to sell this 65-acre farm in the past year. "I had one very good offer just last week," he said, "but this place means too much to my wife and me to let it go."

"It's really tough luck, losing the barn like that. But it's gone now, and nothing can bring it back."

TNT Expert Will Be Idle On July 4th

can be appreciated today. One dynamite stick, weighing less than a half pound, creates 20,000 pounds of pressure, and hundreds of sticks blasted the pipe.

The younger Stout uses up to 300 pounds of blasting stuff a month. Besides raw dynamite, Stout uses an explosive invented during World War II.

That is gelamite, and is suited to the shale rock that underlies borough streets.

STOUT HAS tunneled under a dozen thoroughfares and blasted away for countless yards of sewer line installations. His most recent dynamiting was on North Price street last Winter.

"I hear there is a firm that mixes ammonium nitrate (fertilizer) with fuel oil. The stuff carries a good wallop and is easy to handle," explained Stout.

Through all the year of igniting tons of explosives, Stout claims an accident free record. "Just be careful and don't be nervous," was his explanation of retaining his life and limbs.

But if he is licensed to handle TNT and doesn't mind the work, why then won't Stout give a few blasts on July 4?

"Heck, that's a holiday so who wants to work?" he exclaimed.

AREA SCHOOLS PRESSED BY RISING COSTS

expressed concern at a recent meeting over the fact that the per capita and occupation tax rolls for the upcoming fiscal year were "incomplete and inaccurate."

A LETTER was sent promptly to the County Board for the Assessment and Revision of Taxes, and school board members got together with Sigmund S. Harrison, chairman of the assessment board.

Harrison said the county board looks with favor upon the appointment of full-time assessors for school districts and township and municipal governments, and this measure was taken under consideration by the Schwenksville board. The county would pay a portion of his salary and $25 per month toward his expenses.

Unlike the system now used in most districts where a part-time assessor works on his books as time allows, the county plan would enable the assessor to devote undivided attention to the problem of keeping real estate and personal assessments up to date.

Robert W. Cope, supervising principal of the Schwenksville district, pointed up the problem, "Assessors don't have the time and aren't paid sufficiently to do a good job of it. This is no particular reflection on the assessor, because there is a lot of work in keeping everything up to date.

"WITH BETWEEN 2500 and 3000 names, they have to know who is on the list, who has moved away, and maybe find some who are not on but should be."

Cope said, "I would make a rough guess that, if the occupation and per capita lists were brought up to date, it would mean about $5000 or $6000 more in tax returns."

The district budget calls for $33,750 from a $15 per capita tax, and $24,286 from the occupation tax of 100 mills.

The problem of bringing the books up to date will probably be discussed again at the board's next meeting, July 11.

A PART of the solution may lie with informing the taxpayer of his obligation when entering or moving out of a district, Cope said. "The individual is responsible for registering with the assessor when he move in, or when he reaches 21, and he is required by law to do so. The school board probably will advertise this more to see if it can get more response."

W. Drexel Pierce, president of the Upper Pottsgrove board, said the board met for over an hour Monday night with a representative of the county board of assessment "to discuss problems and confused areas of assessment."

Upper Pottsgrove turns to the assessment problem with a view to diminishing a $50,000 loan recently taken to pay off expenses that were built up in past years. The board also has a 100 mill occupation tax and a $10 personal levy, both of which require constant rechecking of tax rolls for effectiveness.

Local Man Purchases Home in Kenilworth

A large, stone home in Kenilworth owned by a former industrial executive has been purchased by a Pottstonian.

Marvin Lipnack, 239 Lee avenue, is the buyer. The seller is Charles Leslie, former plant superintendent at Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company. Lipnack is the owner of a linoleum store in Phoenixville.

His new house is at 858 Miller road, Kenilworth. The property was sold through Robert R. Leinbach, realtor at 658 South Hanover street.

'CLEVER SISTERS'

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China People's Daily reports the Kiangsi branch of the Chinese Academy of Sciences has recruited 51 "clever sisters" from the illiterate and semiliterate ranks of factory, commune and public utility units for associate research work. It credits Communist party upbringing for their rise.

Pets Also Enjoy Summer Vacation

Shanesville. There the smaller animals have the run of her home. For the larger dogs she has special tracks where they can exercise.

"I'VE HAD as many as 14 dogs in my house at one time," the energetic widow said. "They know each other well, and I never have any fights on my hands."

Mrs. Kilburn recalls one dog who must be the pride and joy of Madison avenue. "He never watched television unless there was a commercial with a cute jingle on. Then he'd come running and park in front of the set."

It's not only dogs and cats that Mrs. Kilburn boards, however. She always has a number of birds, hampsters and other small animals to take care of while their owners are away.

And she has keys to a number of homes in Pottstown so she can feed the gold fish and turtles while the rest of the family is away.

MR. AND Mrs. H. Bruce Bechtel, owners of Bruce's Pet shop, 22 North Washington street, do not board dogs or cats, but they do have a number of smaller animals as guests. These include all types of birds, hampsters, fish, even skunks (the deodorized variety).

Mrs. Bechtel says none of the animals she and her husband board gets homesick.

She recalls with a chuckle the hampster who got out of his cage last Summer and hid for three days. Since hampsters are in the habit of sleeping during the day, Mrs. Bechtel had to go into the shop at 11:30 one night to find the evasive guest.

"He was in fine shape," she said. "I have no idea where he found food and water during the three days he was missing, but he did."

NEXT WEEK, Mrs. Bechtel said, she'll be getting a crow and a blue jay to look after while their master is on vacation.

Dr. L. A. Pratt, a veterinarian with offices at West Chester Pike and Schuylkill road, Pottstown RD 2, recalls the time 20 years ago when he boarded a bear cub.

"The bear was no problem at all," Dr. Pratt said. "All I had to do was feed him and he was perfectly happy."

YERGER SEEKS CURTAILMENT

when necessary, and it often is," he declared Tuesday. "We have to give some sort of warning to get traffic out of the way

"But I agree that it is unnecessary to use the sirens at other times. When such use is unwarranted, the drivers will be instructed not to use the sirens."

YERGER made the clarification in answer to a Mercury editorial appearing Tuesday morning, which stressed complaints of citizens on unnecessary siren noises.

A notice is posted at the firehouse, signed by Yerger. It says: "Ambulance and relief drivers. Posted speeds. Intersections—15 MPH. In town—35 MPH. On highways—65 MPH. These speeds will not be exceeded."

Yerger suceeded the late Milford "Bud" Favinger as chairman of the Goodwill board.

Typhoon Olive Stops Near Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) — Typhoon Olive, packing top winds of 86 miles an hour, came to a dead stop 140 miles southeast of Hong Kong early Wednesday.

The Royal Observatory said there was no immediate indication of the direction the big storm would take. On its previous course the typhoon could have struck or swept perilously close to this crown colony.

Wind gusts of 57 m.p.h. buffeted Hong Kong through the night, forcing ships and junks in the harbor to seek other shelter.

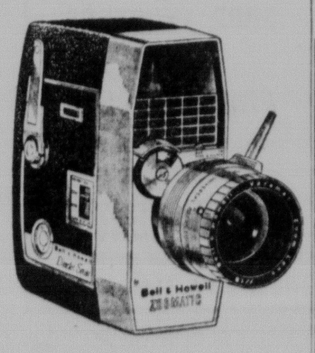

The 60,000-ton U.S. air craft carrier Ranger called in its 4,000 crewmen and put to sea.

370 Traffic Deaths Predicted for Weekend

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavy tourist traffic over the three-day July 4 weekend could take a toll of 370 lives, the National Safety Council estimated Tuesday.

The estimate covers the period from 6 p.m. Friday when many of the weekend travelers will be starting for pleasure spots to midnight Monday.

The council figures nearly all 73 million motor vehicles in the country will be on the move sometime during the three days. Their travel is expected to exceed seven billion miles.

A fatality list of 370 would be 60 more than the number who die in traffic on a non-holiday weekend of similar length during the summer, the council said.

Physical Re-Examination

Traffic safety experts throughout the country have long recommended periodic re-examination of licensed drivers as the one way to determine continuing physical fitness to operate a motor vehicle. Illness, disease, or other physical deterioration unrecognized by even the most conscientious person may affect physical capabilities, making such a driver dangerous to himself and to everyone else on the road. Pennsylvania's new Traffic Safety Program recognizes this problem, and seeks to correct this basic source of highway accidents.

WHO MUST HAVE AN EXAMINATION

Eventually, every licensed motorist in Pennsylvania will be required to have a physical re-examination about every ten years up to the age of 60, and approximately every 5 years thereafter. As of June 1, 1960, all applicants for learners' permits are required to undergo examinations. With their application for 1961 licenses, all operators who received their first Pennsylvania licenses prior to 1924 will have to submit to examinations. Re-examination of all others will begin with the issuance of the 1962 applications, on a staggered basis.

WHERE EXAMINATIONS WILL BE MADE

Physical re-examinations will be given in two parts—one by the State Police and the other by your own physician. There will be no behind the wheel tests of any kind. There will be no oral examination, either, since every licensed driver is expected to be familiar with the State's Vehicle Code. These examinations will be given according to minimum standards which have been established by the Pennsylvania Medical Society and the State's Department of Health.

WHAT YOUR DOCTOR WILL CHECK

Physicians will examine for the following conditions, each of which will be considered grounds for refusing licenses:

Fixed hypertension of 180/100, or above, accompanied by complications (extremely high blood pressure).

Neuropsychiatric disorders affecting attention, perception, coordination or reaction time.

Epilepsy, hysteria or narcolepsy (conditions causing repeated losses of consciousness), unless applicant hasn't had attacks for at least two years.

Uncontrolled diabetes.

Chronic alcoholism.

Addiction to habit forming drugs.

The cost of this examination, which will be paid by the motorist, should not be any more than the cost of a routine visit to your doctor's office.

WHAT THE STATE POLICE WILL CHECK

The State Police will check for the following conditions, which will also be considered grounds for refusing licenses:

Loss of both hands. 20/70 vision, or less, in the better eye with correction.

WHEN YOU MUST HAVE AN EXAMINATION

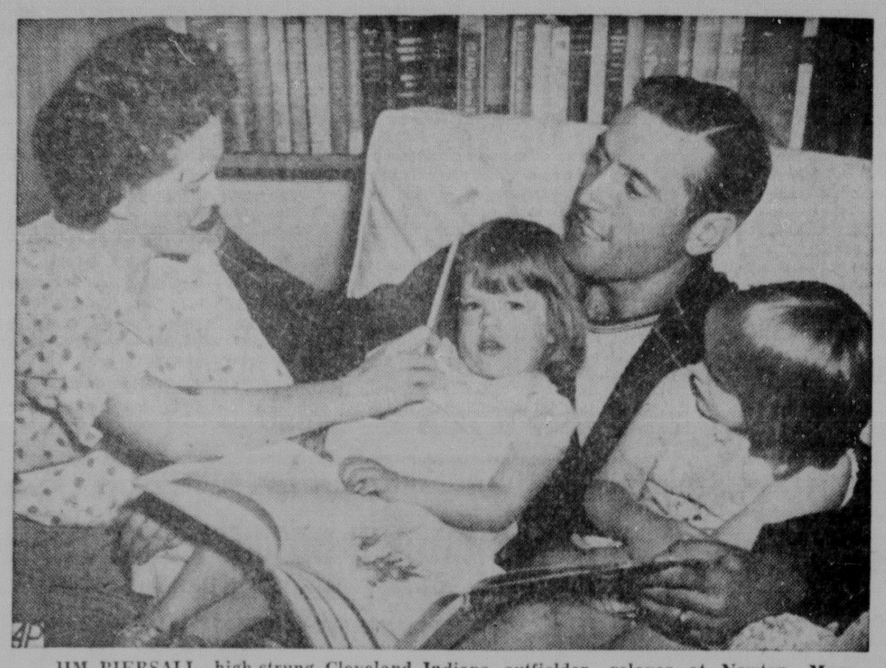

If you are applying for a learner's permit, you must have a physical examination before the permit is issued. This phase became effective June 1, 1960.

If you were driving a motor vehicle in Pennsylvania before 1924, you must have an examination when you make application for your 1961 operator's license in October or November, 1960.

All others will be required to have examinations, beginning with the issuance of license applications for 1962, in October or November, 1961.

Baseball Bill Killed By Senate Vote, 73-12

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Tuesday night killed a bill to place professional sports under the antitrust laws and open major league baseball rosters to an unrestricted draft.

The legislators sent the hotly disputed bill back to the Senate judiciary committee after adopting an amendment which the measure's backers contended would cut it.

"The hour is late, the deed is done," Sen. John A. Carroll (D-Colo.), one of the bill's main backers, told the Senate in moving to have it sent back to committee. It was sent back on a 73-12 vote.

The amendment, sponsored by Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) would have given professional baseball the same limited exemptions from the antitrust laws as the bill would have provided for pro football, hockey and basketball. It was adopted by a 45-41 roll call vote.

* * *

THE ACTION—somewhat of a surprise — came after Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) had urged passage of the bill to "give major league baseball back to the Nation."

"Major league owners have a monopoly control of baseball players from which they ought to be relieved, O'Mahoney said.

Carroll told the Senate he hoped the judiciary committee next year could work out a bill on which its members could reach substantial agreement.

The committee split widely on the measure, and had reported it to the Senate without recommending either for or against its passage.

THE BILL apparently would have run into a dead end in the House in any event. Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), the house judiciary committee chairman, had indicated his group—which would have handled the bill — planned no more meetings in this Congress session.

The bill had been designed to spell out limited exemptions from the antitrust laws for professional football, basketball, and hockey, and impose stricter federal curbs on pro baseball.

It carried no player draft provisions for the other three sports.

Another objective of the bill was to clear away confusion resulting from Supreme Court decisions that baseball is exempt from antitrust laws, but that pro football is subject to these laws.

Tuesday night's action leaves this situation unchanged.

SEEK MIDDLE-MAN'S PROFIT—Next title bout on tap pits Gene Fullmer, the NBA middleweight champ, against Carmen Basilio in Salt Lake City tonight. Basilio, veteran of 75 bouts in which he has won 54 with seven draws, lost to Fullmer via a 14-round TKO in San Francisco in August, 1959, for the vacant NBA title. Fullmer has had 55 fights, won 51 and lost four.

Fullmer Solid Choice In Title Go With Carmen

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Challenger Carmen Basilio slipped quietly into town Tuesday promising "a different fight" with champion Gene Fullmer Wednesday night.

But Utah's middleweight king remained a solid favorite to retain the title in their 15-round clash.

The match goes on at Derks field with a hoped-for turnout of 13,000 or more. It will start at 10 p. m. (Pottstown time).

Betting varied from 7 and 8-5 here to 3 ½-1 in New York that Fullmer will score a repeat win over the 33-year-old former titleholder from Chittenango, N. Y.

* * *

THE 28-YEAR OLD Fullmer from nearby West Jordan whipped Basilio for the NBA version of the middleweight crown last August in San Francisco, handing Basilio the first knockout in his career.

It took Fullmer 14 rounds to stop the old brawler.

Youth and the psychological support of a home-state rooting section are angles that favor Fullmer. Added to this is the point that he beat Carmen once and, in Gene's way of thinking, he should do it again.

Basilio has been working out in secret at Ogden, 40 miles North of Salt Lake City. Only a privileged few have seen him.

But some of these witnesses have been more than impressed with the determination of Basilio to recapture the championship.

Basilio has not fought since Fullmer but his backers discount this as a disadvantage to him.

Basilio reportedly is weighing around 155, a pound less than he scaled in the first Fullmer match. Fullmer weighed 159½ for that one and figures to do the same Wednesday at weigh-in time.

JIM STAUFFER GAINS 2D WIN ON 4-HITTER

Bob Tyson Takes Third Loss; Allows 9 Hits

Spring City backed up Jim Stauffer's four-hit pitching with a nine-hit attack that sank the Collegeville Legion, 3-0 on the winner's diamond Tuesday night.

The victory—fifth of the year for the Red Sox—enabled them to maintain their Ches-Mont league leading pace with Phoenixville. Each has a 5-1 slate.

The third place Pottstown Steelers — slated to go against Downingtown — saw their contest postponed until Friday. The Steelers are 3-2.

Stauffer walked but two and fanned seven while hanging up his second win of the year. Three singles—one a bunt—and a sacrifice accounted for a run in the fourth inning, which was all the margin Stauffer needed as he methodically mowed down the visitors, who protested the game.

* * *

PAUL YOUNGBLUD scored the initial run, and was driven across by Mark Hennessy.

The Red Sox however, pushed across two more tallies in the fifth with an assist from shortstop Tom Engle, who got away a wild throw.

Rich Brower and Jim Stauffer singled to put runners on first and third. Paul Youngblud lined to Engle at shortstop, whose throw to first, which would have doubled off Stauffer, went wild.

Brower raced home on the throw, and Gary Ebert singled to drive in Stauffer. It was his third straight hit.

YOUNG BOB TYSON took the loss for Collegeville, his third of the year. He went the route, surrendering all nine hits. He struck out one and walked none.

The Collegeville protest was based on a decision by plate umpire Richard DeWine, on a play which saw Spring City's Tom Taylor called out.

It was an odd play on which Collegeville contended that DeWine turned his head away from the action, as Taylor, sliding home, came in with spikes up.

The Red Sox will meet St. James of the Pottstown Church league in a practice game this evening at 6:15 in Spring City.

The Point Spread...

By WARREN HOWARD
(Mercury Sports Writer)

THE POTTSTOWN TRI-COUNTY Old Timers boosters' club is going all out again this year to make its annual banquet bigger than ever. First item on the agenda was shifting of the date from early December, the usual time, to mid-October. This was done in order that the Old Timers might invite baseball leagues to forego the expense, time, bother and worry of organizing their own league fetes. "We intend," said Old Timers publicist Morris Grigg, "to invite leagues to schedule their banquets with us." This would be a boon to the leagues which stage their own fetes, in that they wouldn't have to worry about locating halls, securing dates that weren't in use, etc. . . . The Old Timers banquet grows larger each year anyway, and the group always presents at least one award to each league in the area. And what with all the new leagues that have come into being this year, it should turn out to be quite an affair . . . Since the separation of Carl Kolanko from the Boyertown Legion picture, "Pidgie" Kepner and "Ham" Weller have been handling the team. Their record so far is 2-1 with victories over Carver (Reading) and a loss to Shillington. Kepner however, is expecting Buck Rhoads back in the harness in a couple of days. Rhoads has been having a bit of a vacation for himself.

KOLANKO AND ABOUT 200 other baseball people attended the Philadelphia Phillies' clinic at Connie Mack stadium last Saturday, and the Legion's Ninth District turned out with about half of its personnel, including Tom Dennis, head of the Connie Mack program . . . The reporter came face to face with the Phils' new manager, Gene Mauch, at the same time, was very much impressed, as were all the coaches on hand . . . Pat Sundstrom, head of Sports Enterprise, incorporated, is quite enthusiastic about the idea of erecting lights at Enterprise field, and is seeking support for the idea. "Night ball is something that hasn't been tried in Pottstown," he says, noting that night football is a highly successful venture. Sundstrom feels that if the lights could be erected, they would pay for themselves in short order.

BOB FRY, ALL-CHES-MONT league halfback at Spring-Ford High school last Fall, is headed for Maryland university with a full four-year scholarship. Fry is the fourth member of the Ram football squad, which played to its most successful Ches-Mont season last year, to move on to college. The others were the Tanara twins, Al and "Skinny Jim" (who's not so skinny), and Paul Youngblud, who are bound for Chattanooga . . . Fry only got word Tuesday afternoon that his scholarship had come through. He was an eight letterman during his three years at Spring-Ford, and high enough on the academic ladder that he didn't have to take entrance exams. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fry, 833 Lewis road, Royersford, will study business administration . . . In addition to football, Fry also won three baseball letters and two in basketball at Spring-Ford, and will probably play baseball at Maryland. He is currently a member of the Spring City Junior American Legion baseball team, and is one of the area's outstanding diamond prospects.

AREA COACHES CONTINUE TO resign at a rapid rate, and Upper Perkiomen High school lost its third in a year when Al Nieman announced his intention of quitting as baseball coach. Departed from the East Greenville Jointure are George Mitro, who quit last year as head basketball coach, Steve Knight, football coach, and now Nieman . . . Ray Gurzynski gave up football at Ursinus college and George Eichnor called it a day in the same sport at Pottsgrove . . . At last look Dick Ricketts' pitching record was 5-5 at Rochester, where he hurled a six-hit seven inning shutout for his fifth win, then lost his fifth to Miami, 5-3 on three unearned runs. Meanwhile brother Dave has taken up residence in Lancaster, and didn't break into the Red Roses' lineup right away . . . Earl "Yogi" Strom is up and around again, following a hernia operation, and is back directing the City Softball league. It marks his second battle with physical injury. He previously had back woes.

Herrera Clouts 9th Homer To Extend Hit Streak To 20 Games

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rookie Pancho Herrera clouted his ninth home run to extend his batting streak to 20 consecutive games as the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-0 Tuesday night behind freshman Dallas Green's three-hit pitching.

Green, a former University of Delaware basketball star who came to the Phillies from Buffalo with an unfashionable 3-4 record, made his first National League triumph a masterpiece. He yielded a single to Don Demeter in the third, a double to Charlie Neal in the fourth, and a single off his glove by Norm Larker in the ninth.

At all other times, the lanky 6-5 right-hander was masterful. He retired 14 Dodgers in order at one stage.

Herrera, another recruit from Buffalo where he was the most valuable player in the International League and triple crown winner last season, displayed power when he smashed an opposite field home run off loser Stan Williams' first loss on the road since the Phillies beat him on July 17, 1958.

The Phillies scored their first run in the first inning on back to back doubles by Tony Gonzalez and Tony Taylor.

Bucs Will Not Play Doubleheader July 10

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bob Friend, player representative for the Pittsburgh Pirates, said Tuesday night his teammates will not take the field for the second game of the July 10 doubleheader at Philadelphia.

The second game of the twinbill is to make up for a rained-out game earlier in the season. Friend said it is against the players' agreement to play a doubleheader following a night game.

The Pirates are scheduled to play a twi-night doubleheader July 8 and a night game July 9 followed by the twinbill.

Pirates' general manager Joe L. Brown said he has filed a strong complaint with Warren Giles.

Andy Kriczky's single capped a three-run sixth inning for Sunset Pharmacy which carried the Druggists to a 5-4 City league win over Holy Trinity Tuesday night at Memorial park.

Trailing 4-2 in the sixth, Sunset used singles by Jerry Flicker and Red Braunsberg, a passed ball, an outfield error and Kriczky's blow to move in front to stay.

Ben Levengood went all the way for the Druggists. Holy Trinity nicked him for a second-inning marker and three more runs in the fifth.

Merrill Renninger was the victim of the Druggists' uprising.

Renninger collected two of Holy Trinity's four hits, while Kriczky's pair of singles led Sunset's seven-hit total.

Nats Nip Chisox On 14th Inning Hitless Run 2-1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Julio Becquer's sacrifice fly scored Lenny Green in the 14th inning Tuesday night as Washington edged Chicago 2-1.

It was the Senators' fifth straight victory, their longest win string of the season.

The winning run came without a hit. Green led off with a walk and moved to second on Billy Gardner's sacrifice. Earl Battey was walked intentionally. Then relief pitcher Turk Lown walked pinch-hitter Elmer Valo to fill the bases. Gerry Staley came in to pitch for Chicago and Becquer flied to right field with Green scoring after the catch.

Redlegs Climb With 10-4 Win Over Cardinals

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs jumped on an old cousin, Ron Kline, for five runs in the first inning and went on to beat the St. Louis Cardinals 10-4 Tuesday night. The victory enabled the Reds to replace the Cardinals in fourth place.

Ed Bailey's seventh home run with one aboard capped the early uprising that routed Kline. Kline now has a 4-13 career record against Cincinnati.

Giants, Pirates Tie 7-7 In Curfew-Halted Clash

PITTSBURGH (AP) — First place Pittsburgh rallied for one run in the ninth inning to deadlock San Francisco 7-7 Tuesday night in a rain-delayed game called by curfew.

Everything counts in the record books except the game. It must be replayed from the start at a later date.

Roberto Clemente's single after walks to Bob Skinner and Dick Stuart earned the Pirates the deadlock. The Pirates then loaded the bases but Jack Sanford got the next three batters.

Pinch-hitter Hal Smith struck out with the bases loaded as the time ran out.

The Giants had moved out in front 7-6 in the seventh inning on a run-scoring single by Willie Mays.

The deadlock left the Pirates 2½ games ahead of the surging Milwaukee Braves, who beat Chicago 5-3, and six ahead of the Giants.

The game was delayed three times by rain.

An 11-run sixth inning helped the Elks to post a 16-4 Knee-Hi league win over St. John's Tuesday night at Memorial park.

The game was nip-and-tuck with the Elks holding a 5-4 lead before their explosion in the sixth.

It was victory number three for the twice-defeated Elks. The loss was the fifth for winless St. John's.

Jim Coyle and Tom Padden did the hurling for the Elks with Coyle gaining credit for the win.

The loss went to St. John's starter Art Lewis, who was relieved by Dave Emery in the second.

Padden also played a major role offensively with three of the Elks' 14 hits. Dave Psota contributed two.

Dale Kramer recalls a time when humorist James Thurber served a stretch as rewrite man for the old New York Post. The editor had a mania for short lead sentences and repeatedly lectured Jim on the subject. Thurber finally ran this lead on a page one story: "Dead. That's what Killer Joe Blank was when police found him in an alley yesterday."

Covington Belts Homer In 6th, Provides Margin

CHICAGO (AP) — Wes Covington's leadoff homer in the sixth inning plus an insurance run in the eighth carried Milwaukee to a 5-3 victory over Chicago Tuesday in the season's first Wrigley Field meeting between the two teams.

Weather wiped out all three games of Milwaukee's first Chicago visit in May, blanking four different attempts to play any one of the games. Weather also threatened Tuesday's game as play was delayed for one full hour when Milwaukee was batting in the fourth.

Veteran Warren Spahn won it for his sixth triumph among 10 decisions as well as his first over the Cubs this year.

Palmer Is Irish Choice in British Open

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland, (AP)—If you want to get a bet against Arnold Palmer's winning the British Open golf championship starting at St. Andrews next week you'll have to hunt for a taker.

The American Open and Masters' champion, on his performance as Sam Snead's partner in the Canada cup play here, now stands at the top of the odds board in the golfing world.

The Irish, Scots, English and Welsh who not only know the game but love to bet on it, have concluded that the Ligonier, Pa. professional is the man to beat in a field of 410 for the centenary of the British Open.

They made their own form sheet, not on Palmer's great year in the U.S., but on their examination of his game on the 7093 yards Portmarnock links beside the Irish Sea.

SNEAD THEY took for granted and Sammy's 281 for second individual prize, two shots behind winner Flory Van Donck of Belgium, was still three shots better than Palmer's 284. Together, the Americans' 565 spreadeagled the field. England was second with 573.

Palmer was under the microscope, not Snead, for he's the man coming up and at 48 the Slammer now has to choose his spots to retain his prestige. He is passing up the Open.

What the highly knowledgeable golf crowd here opined in the wake of the Canada Cup play is that while Palmer lacks Snead's consummate grace and easy style, he more than makes us for it somewhere inside him.

When Arnold went out in 69 on the first day, then tacked on a 71 this was expected. On the third day he blew to a 75, putting miserably. In the final round it was Palmer who fashioned a highly necessary 69 while Snead skied to 75. Thus it really was Palmer who had it when the chips were down.

The golfwise Irish were talking Tuesday about Palmer's spirit, not his golf. They liked the man's talent for rising to an occasion, getting rid of the putting jeebies and meeting the challenge. That, to the Irish, is the breath of life.

So they calculate that such a man can whip St. Andrews and if he's not putting one day, he'll be putting the next.

It would be a modern grand slam—the Masters, the U. S. and British Opens, and the U. S. PGA. It would be equivalent to Bobby Jones' 1930 performance when he won both British Amateur and Open and American Amateur and Open championships.

Detroit Pounds Bosox for 10-1 Win on 15 Hits

BOSTON (AP)—The Detroit Tigers slammed 15 hits and broke a three-game losing streak with a 10-1 victory over Boston behind the nine-hit pitching of left-hander Don Mossi.

Posting his fifth victory against as many losses, the 30-year-old Mossi got a plentiful cushion from four-run and five-run innings.

Mossi had a four-hitter going into the seventh where he lost his shutout. Pinch-hitter Carroll Hardy, batting .067 with two hits in 30 trips, doubled off the left field wall. Don Buddin hit a towering popup which dropped safely just inside the first base line only halfway from the plate to the bag for a single. Ted Williams singled home the Boston run.

Kenilworth continued its chase of the Junior league pace-setting Shamrocks Tuesday night with a 13-2 conquest of the Raiders, wrought by Jack Plask's two-hit pitching and a 12-hit attack at Memorial park.

The winners took over the lead with a two-run first and never relinquished it as they battered a pair of Raider hurlers, Vern Frederick and David Borglet for three more tallies in the third and five in the fifth, before closing out with a three run seventh.

Plask meanwhile, allowed singles to Danny Mauger and Frederick, both of which were converted to runs chiefly due to Plask's own wildness.

He fanned 10 over the route, but walked as many to keep himself under constant pressure. He also committed an error, one of two by the winners.

Pottsgrove's unbeaten Lions banged their way to successive win number seven in Ches-Mont Knee-Hi league activity Tuesday night.

The league-leading Lions clawed Phoenixville's Tigers, 16-5, at Pottsgrove while Norco downed South Coventry-Warwick, 4-1, and Limerick took the measure of Lower Pottsgrove's Optimists, 5-2, in other league tilts.

Dave Lightcap led the Lions' 17-hit assault on three Tiger hurlers with four safeties in as many trips. Daryl Daisy went the distance to rack up the mound win. Bob Smith was the loser.

Norco's Frank Voynar, helped by three unearned runs, gained the hill decision over John Dowhunick at Bucktown. Voynar allowed six hits while the South Coventry-Warwick moundsman limited Norco to five.

Limerick moved into a tie for second place with South Coventry-Warwick with its win over Lower Pottsgrove.

Kennedy Denies Promise to Meyner

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts says he has not offered Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey a Cabinet post for the governor's support at the national convention.

And the presidential contender also claims as untrue reports that he did not want or need support at the national convention from the Southern states.

Regarding the vote of the Southern states Kennedy said: "I did not say I didn't want their support. I had said I didn't anticipate it."

King of Thailand Greeted By President at Airport

WASHINGTON (AP)—The King of Thailand, displaying pride in his U.S. birth, arrived Tuesday with his queen to a 21-gun salute, the playing of bands, and a warm greeting from President Eisenhower.

In line with his personal diplomacy—which he defended in a major radio-TV address Monday night—Eisenhower motored to National Airport to welcome King Bhumibol Adulyadej, 32, and escort him in reviewing the honor troops.

The President and the King joined in speaking of U.S.-Thai friendship and the good to come of the monarch's month-long tour of the United States.

The slender monarch said it was also a "sentiment-filled" revisiting of the country in which he was born. He was born in Cambridge, Mass., while his father was a student at Harvard Medical School.

Bhumibol showed his American background. He said he tootles a jazz saxaphone and clarinet, likes photography and architecture.

* * *

Speaking good Americanese, he noted Americans like between-meal snacks of popcorn, hot dogs and ice cream, while Thais prefer noodle soup and pickled fruits.

But the basic ideals of both peoples—"freedom and independence"—are the same, he said.

The King and his pert and pretty wife, Queen Sirikit, arrived from Pittsburgh aboard Eisenhower's plane, Columbine III.

The Thai ruler sported the resplendently white, starched uniform of a Thai general. He wore dark glasses, a row of medals on his chest, and carried a sheathed, ornate sword in his left hand.

The queen was chic in a pink suit, shimmering pearl necklace, and a cap of off-white blossoms. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Crowds estimated by police at 80,000 saw them drive from the airport into the city.

Their majesties were honor guests at a White House dinner Tuesday night. The King addresses a joint meeting of Congress Wednesday and has a half-hour conference with Eisenhower. He is staying at the President's guest house across the street from the White House.

Basically, the five-day stay in the capital is a goodwill visit more than a mission of diplomatic negotiation.

U.S.-Thai relations are in generally good repair.

The royal couple leave for Williamsburg, Va., Saturday after a full round of Washington sightseeing and official functions.

Market Likely to Perform Irregularly In Near Future

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market is likely to perform irregularly in the immediate future, according to some analysts.

This idea seems to have replaced much of the anticipation that the market was poised for a renewed rally that would carry it near the year's highs.

The Alexander Hamilton Institute considers the current reaction from the rapid and extensive advance in May and early June a normal expectation and says more near-term irregularity can be expected.

"Until we see a stronger indication of direction, and until the obscurity of likely final results for 1960 is clarified, we continue to sound a cautious note on investments," the institute adds.

* * *

Joseph E. Granville of E. F. Hutton & Co. says that with the best consistent strength still lying with the counter-cyclical issues, chances of any further advance at this time have waned.

He says the trend may remain lower for the next few weeks.

Bache & Co. believes that the Dow Jones average of industrial stocks has established a clear trading range between 639 and 664.

"It is likely that the industrial index will continue to build a broad sidewise pattern within these limits over the near term," the company says.

"As has been the case in the recent past, however, individual stocks are likely to move sharply either one way or another as the general list backs and fills."

* * *

However, there still is confidence on Wall Street that the market is going to give a good account of itself.

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. terms the market pattern favorable as it continues to move within a 20-point trading range.

* * *

"This is constructive and indicates the likelihood of an attack against the overhead resistance rather than support levels," he contends.

"Actually, one might view the current stock action in the light of a neutral movement pending the next recovery phase."

A. M. Kidder & Co. commented: "The uncertain outlook for the next few weeks, especially for the steel and motor industries, may make for caution, but we doubt that it will prevent some further gain in the averages.

"When business news improves, as we expect it will, the advance in stocks may be expected to broaden out under more representative leadership.

* * *

L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co. sees a slowing in the rate of advance of electronics and science stocks and recommends "some profit taking in them and switching to more conventional equities."

Reuther Asks Ike To Call Conference

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, is urging President Eisenhower to call a national conference to ward off what Reuther says is a threatened recession.

The request was contained in a letter to President Eisenhower, which Reuther disclosed here Tuesday. It was mailed Thursday.

"Our economy today is limping painfully," Reuther wrote. "Unemployment is far too high, in fact higher than at this time last year. Sharp production declines in key industries are holding back the economy as a whole."

Reuther suggested that his proposed conference include "leaders from all walks of life—government, business, industry, labor, agriculture, education, science and consumers.

Pottstown Driver Has Close Call

A Pottstown man escaped serious injury Tuesday at 2:20 p. m. when an iron pipe fell from a truck traveling in front of him on Route 83 near Royers ford and crashed through the windshield of his car.

Franklin Mann Jr., 940 Logan street, said glass flew everywhere in the car, but he suffered nothing but a minor cut of the right hand.

The truck was driven by Leonard O'Donnell, Philadelphia.

State police at the Thorndale barracks investigated.

Man Returns to Pay Bills That Haunted Him 8 Years

his inability to pay these debts to the people here.

FOR THE past three years, Leslie has been a guard with the Lukens Steel company plant police. He worked steadily and didn't miss a day. The family at last was able to start saving its money toward the outstanding accounts.

Recently, the Coatesville Baptist church, where the Leslies attend, had a guest minister, the Rev. Dr. John Moletti, pastor of the Community Baptist church in Kodiak, Alaska.

He stressed the need for adult help in Alaska to the point where the Leslies volunteered to be house parents for a children's home on Kodiak island.

As they prepared to leave for their new calling, the Leslies decided they would pay all their outstanding bills, although it was a little earlier than they expected to be able to afford it.

* * *

TUESDAY MORNING the Leslies came to Pottstown and paid all their debts. They insisted on paying the hospital bills, although Pollock informed them it wasn't necessary.

During the nine years that elapsed since Leslie was in the hospital, the family never received notice of anything concerning an account.

As far as the hospital was concerned, it was a written off account, said Pollock. The family received only a statement of the value of services given Leslie as an indigent patient.

Leslie paid the bills and told Pollock, "Hospitals and other institutions that are helping men are doing the Lord's work, and that's where the praise should go."

LESLIE STRESSED he didn't want any credit to go to him, therefore. He said he felt the time would come someday he could repay the faith of his friends. He left an envelope with Pollock containing payment to his doctor of nine years ago.

Leslie was baptized in the Pacific ocean at Saipan while fighting in World War II. He has always been a devout church man, and is looking forward to the challenge of working with the destitute children on barren Kodiak island.

The Leslies have three children: Phyllis, 11, Priscilla, 9, and Rachel, 6.

'Sharing Program,' Exhibit to End 16th Trinity Church Bible School

An exhibit and a "sharing program" will be a part of the closing activities of the 16th annual vacation Bible school at Trinity Reformed United Church of Christ this evening.

The exhibit of handcraft will be from 7 to 7:30 o'clock in department classrooms and the program of songs, dramas, and memorization work, will be held in the Fretz Memorial Chapel at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Edgar Antrim, general superintendent of the school this year, will be in charge of this evening's activities. More than a hundred pupils are enroled and will participate.

The school will close tomorrow morning with a worship service in the sanctuary in charge of the Rev. Dr. John B. Frantz, pastor, and a picnic at Sunnybrook park in charge of department teachers.

THIRTY-ONE department superintnedents, teachers and assistants, have been directing pupil activities developing the theme, "The Living Church."

Those in charge have been: Nursery department, Mrs. Kenneth Bechtel, superintendent, assisted by Mary Ann Hoover; Kindergarten, Mrs. Nicholas Noel, superintendent, assisted by Mrs. Ernest Mutter, Mrs. William Antrim, Mrs. Robertta Richardson, Patty Mutter, Faye Warner, Patricia Bartman, Susan Clemens, Dorothy Gephart, and Dorothy DeLong.

Primary department, Mrs. Malcholm DeWitt, superintendent, assisted by Mrs. Albert Baker, Mrs. Howard Hoffman, Mrs. Thurman Weikel, Dianne Yoder, Mary Yohn and Shirley Baker.

Junior department, Mrs. Robert Miller, superintendent, assisted by Mrs. A. Edwin Colver, Mrs. Marguerite Gelback, Mrs. Victor Van Horn, Mrs. Bertel Hogstrom, Mae Miller and Marjorie Miller.

Dr. Frantz also taught a class of Seventh and Eighth grade pupils on "The Life and Teachings of Christ" as a part of the congregation's 1960-61 church membership preparatory course.

YWCA Fund Drive Falls Short of Goal

There will be no extension of the YWCA fund drive despite the fact that the campaign is going to fall short of its goal.

That was indicated Tuesday night by C. Fred Herbsleb, finance manager of the campaign. The drive officially ends tomorrow.

Herbsleb said pledge cards outstanding probably will bring in an additional $2000 as workers "clean up" their drive in the next couple of weeks. This would raise the total of pledges to near $41,000, or $9000 short of the goal.

The campaign started two and a half months ago. Two weeks were added to permit additional soliciting.

Local Sailor's Adventure Was Cold, Fascinating

watched the icy landscape.

"It was fascinating. Most of us had never seen it, and we just watched the ice. A lot of the men took pictures of the sights.

* * *

DURING THE expedition, Antarctica was in the period of constant daylight. Behrmann said it was a little strange at first, but he got used to it.

"It seemed funny coming off watch at 4 a.m. with it still light out."

The Burton Island cleaved into the ice off Marie Byrdland by pounding the heavy ice with the bow, backing up and grinding forward again, until the way was slowly but surely cleared.

Behrmann saw king penguins, "regular" penguins, seals and various sea birds—the only life on the continent. Before reaching the ice cover, he saw killer whales in the sea.

SINCE CIVILIAN scientists were doing the mapping work, the sailors often had time on their hands. They played cards and games and read. Movies were shown around the clock.

At one point the Burton Island became stuck in the ice, not able to move in any direction. The Navy considered removing two thirds of the crew, and letting the rest sit it out until conditions were favorable to cruise out.

But after 14 days trapped in the ice, demolition teams blasted the Burton Island loose. The Navy waited out the "rescue" by tossing a three-day beer party on board.

The S. S. Glacier, halted by engine trouble early in the expedition, turned back, but the mission was successful nonetheless.

The food was excellent, said Behrmann — fresh milk the only commodity missing from a diet including fresh frozen vegetables and meats.

Cruising due north the Burton Island reached Chile, and ported there before returning.

Behrmann was specially trained for his duties on the Burton Island, and knew ahead of time what his assignment would be. He was anxious to make the trip because of a sense of adventure.

"I wanted it for a change, for something difierent," he said.

Burton Island Heard Radio Calls But Replies Failed to Get Through

The Mercury, through "ham" radio operator Joe L. Bowen, tried futilely for several weeks to contact Ronald Behrmann on the U.S.S. Burton Island in the Bellinghausen sea of Antarctica.

Bowen and other local operators constantly signaled the Burton Island, on a schedule provided by the Director of Naval Communications in the Pentagon.

The Mercury arranged with top Navy officials to have the Burton Island radio communications opened at predetermined times.

Behrmann was aware Bowen was trying to make contact, and he explained the failure of the attempt. He said the Burton Island heard Bowen every time, and broadcast a reply, but Bowen didn't pick it up.

Behrmann said the ship transmits on the FM band, and perhaps Bowen cannot receive on FM with his equipment.

A ham operator in Springdale, Pa., knowing of Bowen's efforts, contacted the Burton Island off Chile and spoke with the ship. Another attempt by Bowen was still in vain.

Researchers Report Vaccine for Measles

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A vaccine to prevent measles has been developed by research teams at the University of Colorado Medical Center and elsewhere.

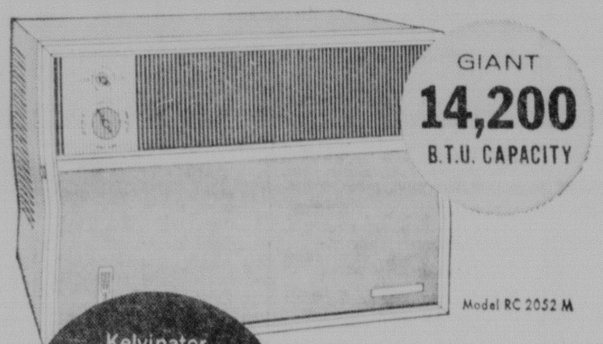

Dr. C. Henry Kempe, head of the Pediatrics Department, said Tuesday the vaccine will not be ready for use nationally, however, for at least two years. He said measles kills more children than does polio.
